Art Unit: 1623

Claims 16-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. there is no support in the specification, as originally filed, for preventing wound healing as stated in claim 16.

Claim 31 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not clear what is meant by the terminology "A for the treatment" (claim 31).

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 16-20 and 24-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rorstad et al (EP 0 466 037) or Engstad et al (WO 95/30022).

Each of Rorstad et al and Engstad et al discloses administration of glucans to aquatic animals. Prevention of inflammation and/or wound healing would have been inherent from such an administration.

Claims 16-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rorstad et al (EP 0 466 037) or Engstad et al (WO 95/30022) in combination with Hayen et al (WO 95/04467)

Each of Rorstad et al and Engstad et al discloses administration of glucans to aquatic animals but do not disclose such administration in combination with vitamin C or a bactericidal agent. However, since administration of glucans in combination with vitamin C and antibiotics was well known in the art at the time of the present invention as disclosed by Hayen et al, a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the present invention was made would have been motivated to add vitamin C and an antibiotic to glucans and administer said composition to aquatic animals in order to treat a bacterial infection which can result from a wound.

Applicant's arguments filed March 19, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants contend that EP'037 and WO'22 do not disclose a method of treatment of inflammation or wound healing. This argument has not been found persuasive since the present claims are not limited to the treatment of inflammation or wound healing but also encompass prevention of inflammation and/or wound healing. Since each of EP'037 and WO'22 discloses administration of glucans to aquatic animals, prevention of inflammation or wound healing would have been inherent in such administration.

Claims 16-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tuse et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,084,386) in view of Rorstad et al (EP 0 466 037).

Tuse et al disclose that glucans can be used for wound healing (column 3, lines 38-52) but do not disclose administration of glucans to aquatic animals. However, since administration of glucans to aquatic animals was well known in the art at the time the claimed invention was made as disclosed by Rorstad et al, a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the claimed invention would have been motivated to administer glucans to aquatic animals for the purpose of wound healing.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
